DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN.
MR. JOHN KIRKBY, an aged and esteemed citizen of our neighborhood, departed this life on Sunday, the 28th ult., at his residence near this village. The deceased had lived on his four-acre farm in the peaceful and quiet discharge of his duties, social, domestic and religious; and fell asleep in death after passing his 84th birthday. He leaves a wife eighty years of age, to his birth-day. He leaves a wife eighty years of age, to his birth-day. He leaves a wife eighty years of age, to his birth-day.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
Hon. P. S. BROOKS is nominated as our next Congress-man. His friends are his constituents. Let the vote be general.

EXCURSIONARY.
Other and pressing engagements prevent our usual attention to this department the present week.

TAX COLLECTOR'S ELECTION.
The voters of Edgefield District will remember that the Polls, for the election of Tax Collector, will be opened for one day only.

BRIGADIER GENERAL.
We learn from the True Centinel, that the election for Brigadier General for the first Brigade of Cavalry, S. C., which came off on the 30th ult., resulted in the election of Gen. FERRMAN, of Abbeville, by a majority of one vote.

FROST.
Since our last issue, this vicinity has been visited with a considerable frost not sufficient, however, to nip vegetation in any injurious degree. Since the frost, Fahrenheit has run up again to 70 deg., and we have now the prospect of a delightful Indian summer.

CHANGING HIS BUSINESS.
Mr. Wray proposes to let his beautiful furniture go at very reduced prices, being resolved to make some change in his business. Any one desiring furniture that combines strength and elegance would do well to call at Wray's soon.

THEATRIC PERFORMANCE.
Remember, ladies and gentlemen! To-night is the first performance of our Amateur Dramatic Corps. Let a bumper of a house cheer them into a high grade of exertion. We think all will be pleased; but that may be better determined after all have heard the play.

THE REVIEWS AND THE ELECTIONS.
The three Regiments of our District have just undergone their annual reviews. The citizen soldiery were out in full force, and nothing occurred during the week to mar the discharge of their duties. Candidates were busy. A vast deal of hard electioneering was done. A large quantity of the "half-dollar" was consumed. Many votes were lost and saved. Now for Court week—then the polls—then the counting of the votes—then the announcement of the successful course—then the chagrin of the defeated—then the curses of disappointed friends—then the—but why pursue the chain!

GOODS IN ABUNDANCE.
Ladies and Gentlemen of Edgefield! We want to tell you, in a few words, what a sight of merchandise is now being opened in this village. Messrs. BLAND & BUTLER, Mr. B. C. BRYAN, Mr. R. H. SULLIVAN and Mr. EDWIN PRYOR are all prepared to accommodate their old friends and customers with every article, in their line, suited to the season. Of Mr. LEON we have spoken elsewhere. Mr. LEONSCHEUTZ has a full and beautiful assortment of clothing, selected and prepared for the season. We have named are enough to present strong inducements before the people of our district to come and trade with us. Edgefield is on rising ground. Our merchants are in earnest to please. They invite a trial from all. Goods are cheap. The styles are new. The stocks mentioned above are laid in with care and circumspection. And it is determined, in the minds of those who own them, to give complete satisfaction to purchasers. Then come, ladies and gentlemen—come, while goods are fresh and plenty—come, while our merchants stand ready to do their best for you. Your home market deserves your patronage. Come one, come all!

LEG'S GROCERY.
If our readers wish to know where to get good things of various kinds, liquid as well as solid, let them call on Mr. WILLIAM LEGG, at his new establishment adjoining Sullivan's store. There will be found all the fresh articles in the grocery line, all just arrived from Charleston. Among other things, we may mention some extra-good old brandy, and plenty of fine whiskey, which may be had by the quart or the gallon, just as may be desired. If there are any who have the opinion of some excellent judges upon both of these articles, and we hesitate not to say, they may be relied on as genuine. Then you will find there many other choice things—coffee, sugar, fresh salmon, sardines, lobsters, soda-biscuits, candies and the like. We are glad to learn that Mr. LEGG intends making arrangements for fresh fish from the Charleston fish-market during the winter. This will afford a rare chance now and then, for a good dish, of which many will gladly avail themselves. In short, every body ought to be delighted that Mr. LEGG has opened; and, to exhibit that delight in a right way, call in and trade a "V" with him the next time you pass that way, just to show you that you appreciate his institution.

JACKSON STREET HOSPITAL, OF AUGUSTA.
This excellent establishment is now in a condition of prosperity and real usefulness, truly gratifying to all friends of humanity. The House Surgeon is eminently capable of conducting such an institution to a high order of merit. This they have already proved, in the short history of their Hospital. Calculated as it is to work out much benefit to our section, it deserves the consideration of every reflecting good man. See the advertisement of the Messrs. CAMPBELL on another column.

LOOK YE THERE!
Mr. RAINFORD requests us to call particular attention to his advertisement in this week's paper. Creditors are politely requested to "call at the Captain's Office" and settle their old scores. Time enough has been allowed in all conscience, time enough to satisfy the requirements of the most enlarged liberality. And now the Administrator says to one and all—"Come up, come up and count out your twentys." The fact is, gentlemen, John is in a tight place. The boat will positively leave the ferry return day for March next.

THE SOUTHERN.
It is with regret that we observe the relinquishment by HENRY ELLIS, Esq., of his interest in and connection with the Orangeburg Southern. Under his very able management, that paper has stood in the front rank of South Carolina journalism. The several passages at arms we have had the honor to engage in with the Southern, have but served to raise paper and editor both in our esteem. In each rencontre, the latter has shown the taste and mettle of a true gentleman. We wish him happiness through life.

TO MR. BOWMAN, the successor of Mr. ELLIS, we extend the hand of cordial greeting. He is an old stager and needs no prediction of success to buoy him up.

OFFICE. We have received from the Brother Jonathan Office, New York, a Sheet of Six finely engraved Portraits, viz: Buchanan and Breckinridge—Fremont and Dayton—and Fillmore and Donelson. Send a 3-cent postage stamp to B. H. DAY, 48 Beekman street, New York, and you will get the whole six of these Portraits for postage. Cheap enough!

Official notices from Gov. Geary and General Smith express the hope that peace and quiet will soon be restored to Kansas.

BAPTISTS.

From the Minutes of the late Baptist State Convention we pick a few facts that may not be uninteresting to our readers:
Only sixty one dollars and sixty five cents went up for the purposes of tract publication and colportage. Rather a meagre showing to begin with!

Some ten new Bible Societies have been organized in the State during the past year. The treasurer's report shows the amount received in this department to have been something upwards of a thousand dollars. It was proposed to try to raise one hundred thousand dollars among the Baptists of South Carolina, towards the establishment of a Common Southern Theological Institution, with the proviso that it be located at Greenville, S. C.

There are fifteen beneficiaries at present in the Furman University, sustained by individuals, Churches, and Associations.
It appears that there are two hundred and ninety Baptist preachers in our State, of whom the following are from Edgefield:

By resolution of the Board of Trustees of the Furman University, the sons of the late lamented Professor Mize are to have the privilege of passing through the University free of tuition charge. A most appropriate charity!

Greenwood, in Abbeville District, was agreed upon as the next place of meeting; time, Saturday before the fourth Lord's day in July, 1857.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE.
The following tribute to the memory of JAMES TERRY, Esq., formerly of this District and late of Alabama, is from the pen of one who knew him well, who was a cotemporary and intimate friend of the deceased, and whose estimate of character is seldom wrong.

The writer requests us to look over the piece and add anything we may think proper. But after perusing it, we are persuaded that its terseness and simplicity are exactly in taste for a notice of the kind; and we have, therefore, refrained from altering or adding a word. With a hearty concurrence in the sentiments of esteem and respect therein contained, we give the piece as it was sent to us:

JAMES TERRY, ESQ.
This worthy gentleman, who died at Mt. Sterling, in the State of Alabama, on the 21st day of July last, was a native of Edgefield District, S. C. He was born on Turkey Creek, on the 31st day of July, 1796.

There are many considerations which should give him a place in the hearts of his countrymen. He gave to his native District this distinction: He gave to his native State a citizen who obtained the highest honors of his class on his graduation in the South Carolina College; and he exemplified and united in an eminent degree, through life, modesty and merit; and we fear it may be said they were not appreciated as they should have been.

The deceased was born of respectable parents, of a class of persons who exercised a beneficial influence on the primitive society of their time, and whose example, in many respects, might well be followed now. Avoiding debt, they lived on the resources of Home; and, by industry and intelligent economy, they made adequate provision for the education of their children. James, the subject of this notice, was the elder son, and was liberally educated. In his boyhood, he was placed at an Old Field School, and there received the rudiments of his education. These schools, by learned criticism, are sometimes associated with the derision of old fashioned pedagogues. But they had many merits to recommend them; and it may be remarked of them, what Cicero said of some of the primitive institutions of Rome, "The study of them is recommended by him as equally pleasant and instructive; they amuse the mind by the remembrance of old words and the portrait of ancient manners; they inculcate the soundest principles of government and morals, and, in genuine value, they surpass the chapters to the history of their country, commenced their education in old field schools."

In 1813, Mr. TERRY became both the pupil and assistant of his cousin, Mr. William Wash, who had charge of an Academy in Edgefield Village. The pupil became strongly imbued with a taste and desire for the pursuit of literature; and in 1816 and 1817, he became an assiduous pupil under the instruction of Mr. Armstrong, who took charge of the Edgefield Academy; and whose reputation as a teacher and master may well be cherished by many who profited by his instruction. In the summer of 1818, Mr. Armstrong was compelled, from other duties and the state of his health, to give up his school, which was large and composed of those who have attained high distinction. By the request of the Trustees the institution was committed to the charge of Mr. Terry and his friend, A. P. Butler.

In 1819, Mr. Terry entered the junior class of the South Carolina College; and in 1820, he graduated with the highest honor of a class which numbered in it many gentlemen of distinction. Among others, and one who had advanced him the 2d honor, was Richard Yendon, who has earned the reputation of a distinguished writer and lawyer. After his graduation, the subject of this notice studied law in the office of Simkins & McDuffie; and, when admitted, became the partner of the latter gentleman. The partnership continued until Mr. Terry was elected Commissioner in Equity. Some of his reports as Commissioner, especially one, both copious and luminous, presenting the facts and questions involved in the great Hamburg case, have been spoken of with high commendation by some of the Chancellors who were called on to consider the reports and give judgment on them.

Mr. Terry had an uncommon aptness for the acquisition of knowledge, and was both clear and accurate in the details of his information. Perhaps he wanted the address which captivates the popular mind; with modest deportment he made little effort to shine, but he had a truthful mind, a kind temper, and a sincere disposition. In the domestic circle, and in the relations of friendship, he exhibited his true qualities. He married Miss Mary Hutchinson, of Augusta, Ga., a lady of taste and varied accomplishments. They had born to them many children, who may well regard the reputation of their father as a rich heritage. His precept and example are calculated to inculcate lessons to improve the heart and enlighten the mind. Next to the hope of reaching a better sphere of existence after death, is to leave the earth with a good reputation. The deceased was a member of the Episcopal Church; and in a sincere piety, he had an abiding hope of happiness beyond the grave.

For the Edgefield Advertiser.
THE BETHLEHEM EXAMINATION.
MR. EDITOR: Allow me to write a few lines in regard to a very interesting school examination, which came off at the Bethlehem Academy, in this District, not long since. A school numbering some 80 or 90 pupils, is a matter of great importance, in the estimation of one who looks with anticipation to the proper improvement of the rising generation. Such is the young but flourishing school of which I now write; and it is to be hoped that the system of education will rise so high, in the estimation of the people, that its progress will never stop until there is a good school built up in every neighborhood, free of charge, so that all classes and of every grade shall be enabled to obtain a good common education.

This school is under the watchful supervision of Mr. ZACHARIAH WRIGHT, a teacher well qualified to discharge the noble and honorable calling which he has chosen.

The day of the examination was indeed very unpleasant; the dark and rainy looking clouds that covered the sunny day, casted many a sad and countenance, but, notwithstanding the dampness of the day, a large company of ladies and gentlemen were present on the occasion.

About one o'clock a feast was spread and dinner was announced and we never witnessed a more sumptuous affair in the annals of pic-nics. After their appetites were perfectly satisfied, they then re-assembled at the stand in order to hear their sons proclaim their strains of eloquence, which was done in an audible manner and which was justly meritorious. There were not only those who had reached the age of maturity, but from that down to very small boys, who

FATAL DUEL.

By telegraphic despatch from Charleston to the Columbia papers of Tuesday, we learn that WM. R. TABER, Esq., Editor of the Mercury, was killed in a duel on Monday evening, 29th Sept., by Mr. EDWARD G. MAGRATH. Mr. TABER fell the third fire.

FUNERAL OF AN AGED COLORED FIREMAN.
TONEY, the oldest colored fireman in the city, whose venerable figure was always seen in their public processions, occupying the post of honor, died last week, and was buried yesterday afternoon. The funeral was probably the largest ever seen in this city. The colored fire companies were out to the number of about 400, of which the deceased was an honorary member, mustering over 70 men. Besides the long procession in carriages and on foot, there were probably fully 1000 negroes of all ages who preceded and followed the procession in an orderly manner, but not in close ranks.—Savannah News.

YANKEE CLERICAL SHIRKERS FOR FREEDOM.
The New Haven (Conn.) Register, states: The Rev. J. Holmes, a political clergyman of the black fusion party, and one of the 3000 who signed the blasphemous protest to Congress, has recently seduced and absconded with a girl of sixteen, the only daughter of a poor widow, leaving his wife and two children in destitute circumstances. This is the twelfth case of seduction and ruin of young girls, or running away with other men's wives by these political priests who signed the protest.

PAUL STILLMAN, an employee in the New York Novelty Works, died last Tuesday, from the effects of wearing tight boots. He had them on his feet only two hours. Mortification set in, which made amputation necessary, and utter prostration of the system followed.

ANOTHER PRIZE FIGHT.—A steamboat called the C. T. Clark, left Brooklyn at an early hour Thursday morning, loaded with vagabonds and ruffians of every grade, bound for Fort Washington, about ten miles up the North River for the purpose of having another prize fight. The names of the two are Lynch and Kelley. The contest lasted two hours and fifteen minutes, and at the end of eighty-four rounds Lynch was declared the victor, Kelly having aip and fell so heavily as to be unable to come up to time. The contest is described by a party who witnessed it as one of the severest that has ever taken place in the American ring. Lynch was shockingly bruised about the face, and had his eye closed on the sixth round. He also received several internal injuries, and last night there were rumors of his death. The fight was for $300.

ONE-TENTH OF A SECOND FROM DEATH.—It will be remembered that the Rev. Mr. Sellwood, of the Episcopal Church, missionary to Oregon, was in the Panama massacre, and reported among the dead. In a letter just received from him he says that he received four wounds, and is disabled for life. His narrow escape from death is thus described:

"After I had recovered, and previous to leaving the Hospital, one of my medical attendants said to me: 'I look upon your escape as a miracle; the ball passed so near the heart, that it must have passed at the instant of its contraction, for had it passed at its expansion, you must have been killed.' Just the one one-tenth of a second made all the difference in your case between life and death."

A PLEASANT FACT.—Mr. John H. Prince, an opulent and liberal planter, in Marengo county, has been for many years among the very first to get a portion of the crop to early market, and for four seasons past his regular order to his factor has been to present the proceeds of the first bale as a donation to the Protestant Orphan Asylum.

We wish this announcement could reach the eye of every one of our equally capable planters, and convey with it and insure obedience to that divine suggestion—"Go on and do likewise." [Mobile Register.]

"THE SENATE MUST BE CRUSHED."—Burlington, in his speech at his reception in Boston, made the following bold avowal:

"When we shall have elected a President, as we will, who will be not the President of a party nor of a section, but the President of the people, and after we have exterminated a few miserable dough-faces from the North, then, if the slave Senate will not give way, we will grind it between the upper and nether mill-stones of our power."

COLUMBIA, Sept. 26.—We learn from Westport, Mo., that Genry has set forth with a good force of U. S. Dragoons to arrest the marauders and freebooters under Lane. It is supposed that Lane has fled to Nebraska; if within the territory of Kansas he will be arrested, as the Government is determined to suppress all disorder. The Southerners in Kansas are organizing for the elections of the 6th prox.

JUSTLY PUNISHED.—In a recent trial of the Cheungo (N. Y.) Circuit, Miss H. D. Dunham recovered a verdict of $600 against Samuel K. Wiley, for libel, contained in a valentine which he sent her through the post office.

HYMENIAL.
MARRIED, in this village, on the 21st Sept., by Rev. E. L. Whitley, Miss MARY BULL, of this District, and Dr. WILLOUGHBY WILLIAMS, of Ala.

OBITUARY.
DIED, at Oakland, Edgefield District, on the 24th Sept., PIERCE WELLINGTON, youngest son of CAROLINE and JOHN P. MICKLER, aged one year, seven months and twelve days.

Dear little Pierce! But a few days ago, when your merry laugh and loud carousals gladdened our heart, little did we think that you would become our painful duty, so soon to find your last tribute of love. Your death hath left an aching void in a once happy and unbroken family.

We deeply sympathize with the bereaved parents who have been called upon to sustain this sudden and severe visitation. But while they mourn the loss of their lovely child, they have the consoling assurance that they have only given him to One who has said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." A FRIEND.

HOW! how! how! we want Money!

DELINQUENT READERS AND FRIENDS: We adopt this method of appealing to you to come forward and settle your respective accounts in this office as soon as practicable. Dire necessity forces us to make this call. We have waited on some of you long and patiently—longer in fact than justice to our creditors warranted us in doing. Indulgence with those creditors has ceased to be virtue, and they now threaten us with the strong arm of the law. Therefore, without further words, kind patrons, come up and extricate us from our difficulties, otherwise we will be forced to deal with others as we are dealt with. Remember, "Delays are dangerous."

Those who have already received summons to appear before certain Magistrates in various parts of the District, for not paying the Printer, must not think hard of us. We wanted our dues, and were tired of dunning; is the only apology we have for pursuing that course with them.
